SOONER PROMISE @ OU: AN OHLAP PARTNERSHIP

-In the fall of 2006, the University of Oklahoma announced a brand new scholarship program--Sooner Promise, an OHLAP Partnership. OU recognizes the importance of Oklahoma's Promise—OHLAP (Oklahoma Higher Learning Access Program) and its mission to serve moderate and lower-income Oklahomans by providing funding for higher education. Sooner Promise is a four-year OU scholarship program that will pay for mandatory fees and books in addition to the tuition currently covered by Oklahoma's Promise-OHLAP. The value of the scholarship is estimated to be more than $25,000 over four years and this program ensures that eligible students and their parents will not be asked to pay for tuition, mandatory fees and books even if costs increase during the four years of study leading to a bachelor's degree at the University of Oklahoma. It is available to all Oklahoma's Promise-OHLAP students who are admitted to and enroll at OU, receive OHLAP funding, complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) by March 1 and maintain progress toward graduation in four years at OU.
